

Electrical Inspections

NEW CONFIRMATION REQUIREMENT

March 2021

Electrical contractors:

As you know, the responsibility for gas and electrical inspections has officially transferred from SaskPower to the Technical Safety Authority of Saskatchewan (TSASK).

Currently, SaskPower accepts the energization sticker number as confirmation that an electrical permit has been paid. However, with the recent transition, there is a new requirement.

Effective immediately, SaskPower will require the following to be submitted prior to energizing any new service connection:

- Electrical permit #
- Electrical contractor name

The current energization sticker process will remain in place.

Contractors can submit permits online at <https://geis.tsask.ca>

This information will also be required by SaskPower prior to energizing any existing service that has been disconnected for a period of 12 months or longer.

Electricians should be ready to provide the permit number to their customers, to avoid delays in service.
